UNPACKED

Pharaoh has finally let God's people go, they are no longer slaves to Pharaoh and the Egyptian people, or at least that was the situation at the end of Exodus 13. The Israelite people might have begun to relax believing that they were finally safe with God and Moses. God hadn't just saved them from Pharaoh, he stayed with them during their journey to the Red Sea - appearing as a pillar of cloud during the day and a pillar of fire in the night. It must have been nice to have that constant reminder that God was with them, something that I'm sure some of us would like to have during these very strange times.

However even though they had a physical reminder that God was with them, they still did not trust in Him completely. We hear in the the story that Pharaoh had changed his mind yet again, and took his army to chase after the Israelites. So what did the Israelites do? Well, they panicked, turned on Moses and accused him of bringing them into the desert to die. As we know from the rest of the story, they did not die because God saved.

So if it was that hard for the Israelites to trust God despite having a physical reminder that He was with them. Then it's not so difficult to see why many of us have trouble trusting in God. The Bible tells us that when we make a decision to follow God through our lives that He will keep us safe no matter what. Just like he did for the Israelites. So when you're feeling scared and alone then just remember what God did for the Israelites. Not only did he stay with them through it all but he kept them safe.

PARTING THE RED SEA

HOW CAN YOU REPRESENT YOUR IDEA OF THE PARTING OF THE RED SEA

The parting of the Red Sea is the moment when God saves the Israelites. There are lots of different ways that we can represent the parting of the Red Sea, but how do you imagine it. Why not have a go at creating a representation of the way you imagine it would have looked.
